We are starting out 2018 with a Fun Day. There is no need to sign up for this one, just pack a lunch and come and join us for a day of sewing and fellowship. If you have something that you need a little help with, just let Paula Crook know and she will try to find someone who might have just the information that you need.

On January 16, Peg Mowrey will be offering techniques for using jelly rolls to make a quick quilt. If you want to join in on this activity, just bring a jelly roll or a pile of 2 1/2" WOF strips and go home with a finished quilt top. These would great for a Comfort Quilt!

If you have ideas for projects for next year's Day Bees, please send an email to Paula Crook at ptcsews@nctv.com. She will be looking for fun things for next year. And, if you are willing to "teach" a Day Bee, let her know that too.

In February, our Day Bee will a tote bag class that has been requested by a member of the guild. Watch our website for a photo and supply list.

2018 Quilt Show...A Kaleidoscope of Quilts

The excitement is growing as we prepare for our upcoming quilt show...A Kaleidoscope of Quilts. It's truly amazing how much time and effort is needed to plan an event such as ours. Many committees are already working and stitches are flying as the presentation quilt is being pieced (and taken out if all the points aren't perfect) and quilted. It will be a beautiful raffle quilt and I look forward to sharing it with you soon. Many thanks to Cheryl Keith for providing the fabric and pattern and rounding up a group of talented ladies to put all the pieces together.

At the January meeting we will talk more about the show and committees and I hope each of you will find a place to serve. This is our biggest fundraiser and supports the wonderful programs we enjoy each month. As I visit area shows, I marvel at the talents quilters display in their work. I hope you have found an exciting pattern to construct in preparation for this grand event. It's too cold to be outside, so what better time to get your "show piece" ready for September! I look forward to sharing more ideas with you in January!
